Fly Survey To Be Made By the State

Favorable Reply Made to Plea by Chamber of Commerce

Mrs. Steinberger Makes Report on Tournament Float

Relief from abandoned citrus orchards in Sierra Madre may be expected within a short time, according to a communication received from the state department of Agriculture by R. C. Copenhaver, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce.

Complaint has been made many times in the past few years regarding the abandoned trees in this city, and the matter of their removal has been discussed, only to find that there is no state law governing such nuisance in incorporated communities and that nothing could be done. J. E. Carpenter, street superintendent, in answer to an inquiry last evening stated that trees could not be removed under the "weed" ordinance because they do not constitute a fire menace.

The fruit-fly problem in Florida, however, is putting a changed aspect on conditions, and the state department is preparing an intensive survey with the intention of destroying all trees that may harbor the fruit fly in case the quarantine against it fails of its purpose. The letter to Mr. Copenhaver is from H. J. Ryan, Officer in charge of the Southern District, and is as follows:

"In connection with the Mediterranean Fruit Fly survey, we are laying definite plans to provide for an adequate survey of all residential areas in Southern California where there are any host trees.

"Just as soon as we have completed the details of the orchard, packing house and market survey plan, which is to be done by the regular district inspectors, we expect to organize special survey crews for the handling of residential areas.

"In the meantime, I am asking Mr. McFarlin to get in touch with you and look up any particular places he may have in mind as possible danger spots, but until the special survey crews are organized, we are not equipped to undertake adequate inspection of residential areas.

"I feel there is very definite need of legislative action requiring the removal of abandoned orchards such as you speak of. We should not be obliged to spend public funds for the inspection and reinspection of such places, which are, altogether aside from the fruit fly problem, a detriment to the community.

"I expect the committee now considering different phases of the problem will soon have recommendations to make toward county legislation, but in the meantime, if anything can be done by your body in the city of Sierra Madre toward securing the removal of abandoned trees, it would be of advantage to the survey plan as well as of material benefit to your community from other angles."

The local organization is now awaiting word from Mr. McFarlin before actively engaging in an effort to rid the community of the trees in question.

Mrs. J. Milton Steinberger, Sierra Madre representative on the Tournament of Roses committee, reported that the theme for the 1930 Tournament would be "Festive Days of the Year." A committee consisting of Mrs. Hinton, Dr. Krebs, Mrs. Tuttle and herself had selected as Sierra Madre's entry "Perry's Discovery of the North Pole." Mrs. Steinberger reported at length on the plans of the committee and asked the co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce in completing an organization.

Among other items, Mrs. Steinberger stated that this year an auto truck would be rented in order that the foundation work could be completed in advance of the time for placing the flowers. In the past the committee has depended upon the free use of a truck, securing possession of it a day or two before the tournament, and rushing through the work, to the detriment of the entire plan, and working a tremendous hardship on those engaged in the last minute rush.

PRESENT DRIVERS' LICENSES TO BE REVOKED AUG. 15th

All drivers licenses issued in this state prior to January 1, 1927, will be revoked and application for new license must be made by August 15, 1929, according to George H. Cox, Sierra Madre chief of police, who has just received a letter to that effect from the State Department of motor vehicles.

Applications may be made here in Sierra Madre without the necessity of going to Los Angeles, Mr. Cox states. No fees are charged for the examinations and the examinations and the licenses cost nothing.

All operators' licenses issued after August 14 will expire automatically within two years, according to Franz G. Snook, chief of the division of motor vehicles.

Swim Week Is Set For July 14-20

Red Cross to Sponsor Course at the New Canyon Pool

American Red Cross Swim Week for Sierra Madre has been designated to start July 14 and continue for seven days, according to W. R. Humphries, president of the local chapter.

The course will consist of six lessons and classes will be held for all ages. Everyone entering the course will be required to sign an application blank, and parents will sign for minor children. The cost of the course will be $100, which will be paid for by the local and national Red Cross, the lessons costing those enrolled nothing. The regular charges, however, will prevail at the pool, and as Mr. Heasley has established a comparatively low rate for use of the pool and bath house, the course of six lessons will cost merely a nominal sum.

L. M. Steimle will be instructor during Swim Week. He is a member of the regular corps of Red Cross instructors and is spoken of in very high terms by the officials in charge of the work in Southern California.

After the week's instruction in swimming and life saving, tests will be given and emblems will be awarded in the different divisions.

Booklets containing complete details of the course, especially in regard to life-saving and resuscitating drowning persons, may be secured by those entering the various classes, or by anyone interested, by applying to Mr. Humphries.

A complete program of the class hours will be published in the next issue of the News. It is confidently expected by those in charge that the Swim Week program will be of great and lasting benefit in the community.

be appointed by President Klunk of the Chamber of Commerce, and a new plan of arranging a supply of flowers will be worked out. Complete details will be announced later.

W. R. Humphries, president of the Red Cross chapter, appeared and asked the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce in the Swim Week to be staged here during the week of July 14.

The editorial in the last issue of the Sierra Madre News concerning the need for regular bus service came up for lengthy discussion. It was pointed out that at present there is no regular service, though the city is served by two taxi-cabs which are subject to call. It was suggested that regular bus service, with a ten or fifteen-cent fare would tend to increase home-town buying, as it would permit housewives to go to the markets and make personal selection of merchandise. The matter was finally referred to the Retail Merchants committee of which Ray Grant is chairman.

Twelve directors of the chamber of commerce were present at the meeting Monday night, C. B. Klunk, president; R. C. Copenhaver, W. E. Pratt, James C. Heasley, Ray Grant, J. E. Carpenter, R. W. Stewart, Ray Grant, J. R. Eastwood, Mrs. W. C. Gruitt, Misses Clara Sykes, Laura E. Cadmus and Elizabeth Steinberger.

Elks Band In Concert Here On July 17th

Organization is Happily Re-membered for Concert Last Year

Hartman to Show Self-Made Movies on Park Program Series

The next program of the summer park series will be presented Wednesday, July 17 by the Pasadena Elks band, which opened the season so auspiciously last year, and made a tremendous "hit" with local residents. The band is recognized as being one of the best musical organizations in the state, having reached a high plane under the efficient leadership of Bert Downey.

Cliff Farmer, formerly a resident of Sierra Madre, is manager of the band, and Harry Doyle, one of the best-known and best-loved among the Antlered Herd of the Crown City, is assistant manager. Both will accompany the band to this city.

Among the valued members of the band is Walter Heber, foreman in the News office, who "toots a mean baritone." During the coming week Walter will assume a large share of the hard work incident to the band's appearance in contest and parade at the Elks convention.

A program of the concert numbers will be printed in the News. One of the most enjoyable programs in store for Sierra Madre in the park series will be the showing of several motion pictures made by our own citizen, Rudolph Hartman. Mr. Hartman is gaining a wide reputation thru the excellence of his work, and the program will be interesting from several angles. A color film of California flowers is said by Mr. Hartman to reproduce in every detail the beauty of natural coloring. Several films have been made of local children at play. A recent film in slow motion, taken by Mr. Hartman at the seashore is one of his favorites.

The entertainment committee of the Chamber of Commerce, of which Joe R. Eastwood is chairman, will cooperate with Mr. Hartman in securing additional films of general interest, and in providing musical numbers. It will be a most interesting occasion.

The Community Players have promised an evening's entertainment, and with the wealth of talent of exceptional ability this, too, should be an outstanding program. The Players will be greatly handicapped by lack of adequate facilities, but perhaps through the medium of the summer concerts the need for a stage will become so apparent that all the objections to the plans already submitted will be withdrawn.

On at least one occasion this summer the committee will propose a get-together dinner out-of-doors, followed by a program of music. Included in the program will be ample provision for a genuine community sing.

With the recent allocation of the sum of $200 by the city council for the park concert series, the financial stringency of the past two years has been eliminated, and while the amount available offers no opportunity to engage professional talent, it does assure proper hospitality to visiting artists who donate their talents to the people of the community.

City Lot Cleaning Will Be Finished About July 15th

Cleaning of weeds from the city lots which were not taken care of by the owners in Sierra Madre is now under full swing with a crew of forty men working under the direction of James E. Carpenter, superintendent of streets and water. It is expected this job will be completed around the middle of July.

The roof of the new Grove Street water reservoir has been finished and there remains only the leveling off of the ground around it to have that work all done, and the reservoir ready for use.

Dr. and Mrs. C. L. T. Herbert spent July 4th in San Diego with the doctor's sister, Mrs. R. S. Hayden, returning Saturday.

Building Permits In Sierra Madre Show Good Gain

Building permits in Sierra Madre for the first six months of this year exceeded by $11,820 the value of the permits issued during the same period of 1928, according to George E. Cox, building inspector.

The total for the month of June, 1929, was $49 under that for June last year. The figures follow: June, 1929, $7126; June, 1928, $7175. For the first six months of 1929, $81,301; for the first six months of 1928, $79,481.

New Song by Well Known Composer

Edwin Carewe Writes Lyric Set to Music by Oscar Rasbach

The latest contribution to the world of music by Sierra Madre's favorite composer, Oscar Rasbach, is just of the press of the Harry G. Neville company, of Los Angeles, and is of double interest here because a Sierra Madre poet, Harold D. Carewe, is author of the poem.

"Somewhere, In Memories," is the title given to the composition and it is revealed as a most charming number of the ballad type, a field unusual to Mr. Rasbach, none of whose previous works has been built along the sentimental order.

However, in "Somewhere, In Memories" the work of a master composer and a master poet have been blended into one of the most interesting songs one is likely to hear in some time, and one that will undoubtedly become very popular among musicians in general.

Hartman Spends Day As Guest Of Lasky Studio

Rudolph Hartman had the privilege of spending the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, June 26, as a guest of D. L. Manning, executive head of the mechanical department of Famous Players-Lasky Studio in Hollywood. He inspected the sound stages where the new and interesting "talkies" which have revolutionized the moving picture industry, are produced.

Mr. Manning has charge of the designing and installation of the air conditioning for the talkies. The sound stages, of which Mr. Hartman saw four, are sealed with double doors similar to those used in refrigeration plants and are entirely dependent upon the air conditioning plant. No light comes from the outside, but hundreds of lights are used to produce the proper illumination.

Mr. Hartman states he was greatly impressed by the amount of time and material it takes in the preparation of a talkie. Eighty-four tons of ice are used daily to make the sound stage livable. "Love's Paradise" with Maurice Chevalier was being filmed in one set, with the whole set of paper, highly inflammable. Automatic fire protection is used on all sets.

The studio is sufficient unto itself, a veritable city, with planning and cabinet works, lumber yard, fire department, etc. The studio has eighteen stages for interior and sound pictures. Three previews were viewed in the evening by Mr. Hartman and his host.

Clagstone In Interesting Talk Here

Addresses Joint Meeting of Chamber of Commerce and Kiwanis

Tells of Business Conditions Throughout the United States

"No community can expect to go ahead without some sort of unifying, impelling machinery such as the Chamber of Commerce or similar organization," was the statement of Paul Clagstone, manager of the western division of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, who gave a very interesting address before a joint meeting Tuesday noon of the local Chamber of Commerce and Kiwanis Club.

Approximately fifty representatives of these two organizations were present at the luncheon served at the Woman's Club House. Ray Grant, president of Kiwanis, opened the meeting and after a few matters of business were taken care of, he turned the gavel over to Charles B. Klunk, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who introduced the speaker of the day, Mr. Clagstone.

A message of the greatest encouragement was brought by the speaker as to the outlook for prosperity throughout the entire West from Denver to Los Angeles and from Seattle to San Diego. He has been all over this territory just recently and states that conditions have not been so favorable from a business standpoint for many years back. Each week he receives a lengthy telegraphic report from the U. S. Department of Commerce, and each one at the present time and everyone at the present time shows that commercial transactions were greater than for the preceding week and also greater than the corresponding week last year. There are fewer business failures and the public buying power is constantly increasing.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States is composed of some 1500 city chamber members. Mr. Clagstone stated, and through the encouragement of Mr. Hoover when he was secretary of the interior, it has the fullest cooperation from that department of the government.

People today are enjoying more luxuries and conveniences today than ever before, the speaker said, largely because through deliberate study and analysis of production methods, combined with a united effort to eliminate waste in production, a saving amounting to perhaps one billion dollars has resulted. Furthermore the huge waste by destructive fires has been reduced from more than five hundred million dollars annually to slightly over $400,000,000.

The next field that must be entered into to stop waste is the field of distribution. Mr. Clagstone declared. No statistics were available up to two years or so ago when a national conference was held by the Chamber of Commerce at Washington. Secretary Hoover was present and he suggested that a "distribution census" be taken, to find out just how much the average family is spending a year and along what channels these expenditures are made. To begin with, eleven of the larger typical cities were chosen, such as Seattle, Denver and San Francisco in the western section of the country. Los Angeles was declared not to be a typical city in many ways and so was not analyzed.

Figures have already been compiled for these eleven cities and President Hoover has just last week signed a bill including a "distribution census" in the national census of population to be taken in 1930. This will make figures available in perhaps two years for cities of each size all over the United States and will be invaluable information for business men, Mr. Clagstone stated.

The elimination of the middleman in business has often been discussed, the speaker said, but so far it does not appear practical. At least there will be no economic saving from such a step. The only thing that will produce a saving to the country as a whole so far as the middleman is concerned is to eliminate

WANTED: GOOD HOME FOR STRAY PAIR OF GOOD SPECTACLES

Artistically mounted on a board in our window is a marvelous array of "lost and found" articles that are only waiting for someone to give them a "good home." This collection includes spectacles, keys, watch chains, gloves, handbags, child's clothing complete from head to toe—and goodness knows what all.

B. S. Stinman was overjoyed to recognize in this exhibit a set of keys for his car, lost St. Valentine's Day, Feb. 14. Luckily he had duplicates but all of us are not so fortunate.

Included in the exhibit should be an extra good pair of "specs," loaned to a well known local citizen several months ago, and which were to be returned to the collection after his "were fixed."

Pritchard to Arrive From Vacation Trip

Will Have Charge of Service Sunday at Congregational Church

A message from Rev. Arthur O. Pritchard, who has been absent from the city for the past six weeks, states that he will arrive tomorrow (Saturday) in Los Angeles via San Francisco, at 9:30. Rev. Pritchard left May 23 to attend the National Council of Churches, biennial convention at Detroit, Michigan. From there he went to Albany, New York, Providence, R. I., and Scarsdale, N. Y. At Providence he attended commencement exercises at Brown University, and at Scarsdale, where he was pastor for fifteen years, he enjoyed a visit with many former parishioners.

Mr. Pritchard announces as his text for Sunday morning, when he will again occupy the pulpit at the Congregational Church, "America's Present-day Religious Conditions." With the splendid messages to the convention as a background for his address, his friends are looking forward to a most comprehensive analysis of religious questions.

Miss Alva Conway returned last week from Seattle, having graduated from the domestic science department of the University of Washington on June 17. She will be at home to her many friends at the home of Mrs. A. E. O'Banion on Camillo Street, in Sierra Madre.

The merchant who uses wasteful methods of merchandising, such as selling below cost or doing business and other similar inefficient methods.

Some interesting figures were given from the analysis of San Francisco distribution. The per capita buying power in that city is $780.12 a year. Of this amount $93.50 goes for automobiles; $11.47 for accessories; $24.83 for gas and oil; $15.50 for hardware, etc. The greater part of the money goes to the department stores, while groceries come in for second place. In San Francisco it takes 351 persons to support the average grocery business. Men spend slightly over $32 a year for clothing, while women spend a little more than that amount, or $34.

The short business session that preceded the address included the report by James E. Carpenter, as chairman of the Child Welfare committee of the Kiwanis Club. He read a very appreciative letter from Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, commenting upon the $50 donated by the club for buying milk for the underprivileged children of the Sierra Madre public school.

Mr. Carpenter was appointed district trustee of the Kiwanis Club to fill the unexpired term of Tasker Webster, who recently passed away. Joseph L. Asbury was appointed to represent the club on the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, a position which Mr. Webster also held. Joe R. Eastwood led the singing and succeeded in getting a hearty response from the fifty persons present.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klunk for their hospitality at the "All Kiwanis Night" meeting held last week.

Celebration At City Park Is Successful

City Attorney Phil Dodson Makes Stirring Appeal for Patriotism

Firemen Demonstrate Working of Their New Resuscitator

Civic and patriotic spirit flamed high last evening at the city park program and celebration sponsored by the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce. An audience estimated at twelve hundred persons gathered to enjoy the fine program offered by the American Legion Post, and the demonstration by the Volunteer Fire Department.

The events of the day began at 6 o'clock with the service of luncheon at the park house by the ladies of the Legion Auxiliary. Many took advantage of the opportunity to enjoy luncheon of coffee, sandwiches and ice cream under the beautiful shade trees on the park lawn.

At 7:30 the Legion program opened with the presentation by Post Commander Clay Reavis of the Pasadena Troubadours, a splendid organization composed of talented young men and women, dressed in the conventional and picturesque costumes of Old Mexico. They played, sang and Mr. Reavis then introduced the speaker of the evening, Phil Dodson, city attorney for Sierra Madre, past commander of the state department, American Legion and at present a member of the national Legion committee. In a stirring appeal for 100 per cent Americanism by every citizen of our great Republic, Mr. Dodson won instant attention and held the interest of his audience until the close of his remarks.

He summarized succinctly the vicissitudes through which this nation has gone and emerged victorious in every case with the result that we are now a foremost world power with a democracy that is the ideal of all countries on the globe.

Mr. Dodson declared that the avowed purpose of the American Legion is that if another war is fought by the United States, it will not result in the amassing of fortunes by industry as was the case in the recent World War.

The Volunteer Firemen exhibited their new inhalator and a first aid outfit, the case for which was entirely fashioned by the men themselves. Chief Richards, assisted by Joe Swanson and other members of the department, showed the new inhalator and showed its functioning. The machine was one of the first of its kind, an advanced type, to be placed in operation in Southern California. It cost the department more than $400 and was purchased with earnings from the Wistaria Fete parking operations, which were in charge of the department.

Chief Richards also exhibited the first aid case and its contents, explaining that the men had received a course in first-aid work and were competent to attend all cases where first aid was necessary. The chief also answered many questions asked by persons in the audience.

The department then brought the big truck into action, playing several streams of water under high pressure and demonstrating one of the reasons Sierra Madre has never had a serious fire.

Joe R. Eastwood, as chairman of the entertainment committee, expressed the thanks of the committee and of the Chamber of Commerce to those who had so efficiently arranged the enjoyable program and especially thanked J. E. Carpenter, Frank Spencer, C. B. Klunk and Clay Reavis for their active interest in arranging the fine "reserved seats," stage and lights and attending to other details. Mr. Spencer was active in arranging for the dance, securing the orchestra and seeing that the "reserved seats" were delivered from the packing house in time to be of use. Mr. Carpenter with his usual energy began preparing for the celebration as early as Saturday morning and left nothing undone that would add to the comfort and enjoyment of the audience.

The evening was happily closed with a most successful public dance on the tennis courts. With "Dutch" Larson and the Moonlight Melody Boys functioning in the "orchestra pit," and a large (Continued on Page Eight)

Canyon Park Notes

Free swims were given all day Wednesday when Canyon Park swimming pool was formally opened to the public. Children of the entire community have anxiously awaited this day to avail themselves of the opportunity of a swim in the clear, cool, sparkling mountain water so much enjoyed in the past. More than sixty children were waiting to enter the pool when the bath house was opened at 10 o'clock. The promise of free swims was given children a year ago when handbills were distributed by them previous to the city bond election which was defeated at the polls.

Mrs. James C. Heasley and a corps of helpers have been extremely busy giving out bathing suits and renting lockers. The bath house concession, where ice cream, soft drinks and candies are sold, has also been intensely popular with bathers.

The Canyon Improvement Association will meet Thursday evening July 11 instead of the regular meeting date this week, which fell on the Fourth of July.

D. A. Hawk celebrated his 83d birthday June 30 with members of his family at Sunland Park. Mr. Hawk, who is a great lover of nature, chose this spot with its natural beauty as the most ideal location for his anniversary celebration. Picnic luncheon tables set under the trees were decorated with wild ferns and flowers from Mr. Hawk's own garden. A beautiful cake, bearing the figures "1864" was cut and served by the guest of honor. Those present were Mrs. Hawk, their children and grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Hawk and family of Pasadena and Mrs. Bessie Scalet and family of Hanson Heights, Los Angeles. Another daughter, Mrs. Janet Strook, her husband and family will arrive from Sacramento in a few weeks to spend the summer with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Hawk have led a happy and harmonious life together for 56 years. They were married at Logansport, Indiana, and came to California 23 years ago. Mr. Hawk was engaged in the jewelry business in Long Beach until six years ago when he retired and came to Canyon Park to live.

BIG BUSINESS

A land salesman, who was always talking of sales of thousands of dollars, was greeted one evening by his 11-year-old son, who announced:

"Well, Dad, I've sold the dog for ten thousand dollars."

"For ten thousand dollars! What are you talking about? Where is the money?"

Save Forests For Future Generations

State Director Drafts a New
New Code of Ethics
for Campers

Ethics of the pioneer who was judged for his woodsmanship and conduct afield far more than by his company manners were revived when Fred G. Stevenot, director of the state department of natural resources, announced a new code for vacationing Californians abroad in their heritage of field and forest.

Defining the purpose of law not to impose a series of "Thou Shalt Nots" but to clarify the rights of the individual in relation to the many, the state's conservation chief declared the state owes its magnificent forested areas to the consideration which men of yesterday gave to the rights of the millions of today.

"If future generations are to enjoy the same privileges, it can only come through continued recognition of these rights," he said. "Our forest laws are merely more specific definitions of the old Roman principle that no use of property shall be made that will damage another's rights or interest. If forests burn, streams dry up or game is destroyed through the selfish act of one, all the people of the state must suffer, the offending individual along with the rest."

Reducing his simplified code of outing manners to decalogue form, Stevenot announced his Ten Commandments of the Forest as follows:

1. Leave no camp fire burning. Stir the coals while cooking them with water. Turn small sticks and drench both sides. Wet the ground around the fire. If water is unavailable stir in dirt and tread it down until packed tight over and around the fire. Be sure the last spark is dead.

2. Throw no burning material away. Break matches in two before throwing them down.

3. Burn no grass or brush without a permit from a fire warden. The state law makes a closed season from May 15 to October 31, during which burning permits are required, but several counties have ordinances requiring burning permits the year round.

4. Build no camp fire within a national forest without a permit from a forest ranger. The state law does not require a permit to build a camp fire outside of national forests, but provides a severe penalty if the camp fire is left burning.

5. Leave trees, shrubs, ferns and flowers as you found them. They belong to all. Leave them for all to enjoy. It is not good forest manners to carve your name on trees or wound them in any way.

6. Destroy no forest signs. They may prevent a fire in your favorite camping spot.

7. Cut no Christmas trees or Christmas berries without written permit from the owner. The state law provides a penalty for acts of this kind.

8. Do no pollute streams. Leave camp sites clean. Bury all garbage. Treat your camp site as you would your own home.

9. Catch no fish out of season. Help the state fish and game commission to keep the streams stocked with fish.

10. Don't kill or molest game out of season. Without wild life our forests would lose much of their charm, and if it is to be conserved, everybody must observe the game laws.

Tenderfoot's Camp Fire Exposes His Ignorance

"You can always identify the 'tenderfoot' in the woods by looking at his camp fire," say the rangers of the California District, U. S. Forest Service. "The experienced woodsman does not build a fire that has any of the three faults usually found in the tenderfoot's fire."

"The tenderfoot builds a fire too big for his need or for his convenience. He builds it where it is likely to spread—either in dry grass or brush, or against a dead log that may smoulder after his party leaves, and then cause a destructive forest fire. His fire does not ignite easily or burn satisfactorily because he uses poor judgment in selecting kindling material and fuel."

A good camp fire for cooking is not so large that it cooks the cook as well as the food. A bed of hot coals is preferable to a blaze for cooking. The wise camper collects a few dry needles and dead twigs and starts his fire small, adding larger sticks as it gains in size. If the woods are wet it is possible to secure fuel by chopping off the surface of a dead log or stump.

Never build a camp fire against a dead stump or log that may hold fire after the need for fire has passed. Build it away from trees, brush and grass and on bare ground or rocks. Dry needles, leaves and debris should be scraped away within a radius of five feet or more of the fire. It is often well to dig a shallow pit for the fire, or build a small stone fire-place.

Above all, the wise camper knows how to put out his fire, and makes certain it is completely extinguished before he leaves. Pour water on the embers and stir them to make sure no spark is left. Then for additional safety toss on a few shovelful of earth.

COOPERATION AND ACCOMPLISHMENT

THE present-day tendency of developing a greater friendliness among business men is encouraging as is noted in the rapid growth of the various "service clubs" all over the world. The joint meeting of the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce and Kiwanis Club Tuesday was attended by nearly fifty outstanding men and women who are leaders of affairs in this community, and such a gathering offered wonderful food for thought as to just how much could be accomplished if all of those men and women would "pull together."

The old days of strict individualism are gone, we are thankful to say. United effort accomplishes more and does it more easily and pleasantly. After all, most of our troubles and disagreements came from a lack of understanding of the other fellow's problems. Our neighbor has practically the same desires, the same perplexing problems, the same aspirations as we have. He wishes to provide for his family's comfort, to lay aside a little for a "rainy day," to establish a competency for his declining years, to have the necessities of life and taste some of its luxuries; to enjoy fellowship with his fellowmen and to have the respect at least of his family and friends.

We shouldn't deny him these things, but rather should we encourage him in his effort to attain them. Let's not always be looking for some ulterior motive back of every effort of some progressive citizen to promote the welfare of his town. Let's not be seeking the proverbial "nigger in the wood-pile" nor indulge in that "dog-in-the-manger" attitude. The West is composed mainly of men and women who have pulled themselves away from the more stabilized conditions in the East and Middlewest, and as the more aggressive of these surge forward in their accomplishments, they will carry all of us along with them to a certain extent. Perhaps some of their efforts may appear to be selfish but we challenge you to eradicate selfishness entirely from your program of life and see how much incentive you will have to live and work.

All nature is in delightful harmony in Sierra Madre. Let mankind follow her example for pleasure, peace and prosperity.

BUS SERVICE EDITORIAL IS PRAISED

MANY were the favorable remarks heard during the past few days about the editorial in last week's issue of the News about the need of a regular bus service in this city. This praise came from merchants and from consumers alike, so we feel free to make further comment along this line.

There is no need for anyone to get "touchy" about this matter for the article last week was prompted by the most sincere of motives to work out ways and means for the betterment of business conditions in this city. The same spirit prompted our comments about the proposed handbill ordinance, and it will continue to be the policy of this newspaper to strike out fearlessly along any line that we feel will be for the general welfare of our city, whether the idea is original with us or suggested by some of our constructively-thinking friends.

The residential section of this city is entirely too large not to be served by some sort of transportation system. If some passenger cars with a capacity of seven persons were placed in service over the city, with regular runs and short hauls at a price of ten cents for one-way trips, or, say seven cents for regular "commuters," then there is no reason in the world why such service could not be operated at a profit.

Not only would this encourage patronage of home-town merchants but it would be a great advantage to persons living in Canyon Park or other distant sections of the city and who have to make daily trips on the electric line to their business in Los Angeles or Pasadena.

Angelo or Pasadena. Real estate values would increase as property became more accessible.

The matter has already been taken up by the Chamber of Commerce and referred to the Merchants' Association division. It is planned to have a complete survey made as to the probable operating costs and revenue of such a service and follow this matter through to completion.

We love this little city and love its people, but we frankly state that it has perplexing problems which require persistent and consistent thinking in order to arrive at a solution. We will help to the utmost of our ability. Will you—or will you sit back and say, "What's the use?"

COUNCIL DECIDES TO "BUY AT HOME"

AN excellent example of the "buy at home" policy which the Sierra Madre News is so earnestly endeavoring to practice and promote has been set this week by our Board of Trustees, as announced by Councilman Myers.

The city has been operating its own gasoline pumping station on the city property at the extreme eastern end of town. It is true it could purchase "gas" some three cents a gallon cheaper at wholesale than it would cost retail, but considering the fact that the city's automobiles had to drive away down there each time the tank was empty, and that there was a great "shrinkage" as the gasoline remained in the storage reservoir quite a long time usually, the Trustees decided that this practice was not only an economic waste but that they could also throw quite a little business to the local service stations without cost to the city.

Hereafter all city cars will be supplied at the various filling stations, patronizing them in alphabetical order of the names of the owners.

We commend such a policy as this, and again state that if all of us would buy whatever is possible from the local merchants, or at least let them get certain articles for us if they do not happen to have them in stock, what a flourishing little city we would have! Not only do we urge greater loyalty of people as a whole to their home-town merchants, but also of the merchants to one another.

By "loyalty" we do not mean patronizing home merchants at whatever sacrifice of sacrifice and quality is demanded, but, as a local merchant remarked the other day: "I consider loyalty to home merchants as the voluntary act of an individual who tries first to buy staple merchandise at home. If price and quality is demanded, but, as then demands that he spend his money with his friends and neighbors."

Every merchant in Sierra Madre is trying to give honest values, plus extraordinary service, to his customers. He has the same interest in the prosperity and growth of this city as you have. Be 'loyal' to him by giving him an opportunity to serve you.

SWAT THE FLY MENACE

THE inhabitants of no country can move faster, when it is apparent that a move must be made, than the inhabitants of the United States. And perhaps no nationality can move with such slow deliberation if the proper motive force is lacking to galvanize them into action. One can imagine the first Floridian to discover a Mediterranean fruit fly. He felt no impending danger, and probably gave the "brute" no second thought. But when the danger became apparent, how those Floridians did move!

The same situation may be confronting California at the present time, but so far there is not the slightest fear of impending calamity. True, the authorities are casting questioning glances toward Florida, but experts have stated that California is amply protected from invasion by the high, cold mountains and the hot, dry deserts—unless the quarantine breaks down and the fly gains admittance through fruit carried in by innocent visitors.

California may be counted upon to leap to galvanized action if the fly is discovered within the confines of the state. Millions of dollars will be raised in the twinkling of an eye and the fly will be given a beating it will remember—if it gets here.

But just at present there is no "feel" of danger in the air, and host trees in abandoned areas are safe until the state department gets around to organizing a survey crew to look into the matter. A letter to the department from the local chamber of commerce two weeks ago was answered promptly, with the assurance that a representative would be sent out to look over the offending trees. Perhaps he is making the trip via the Panama Canal and New York City. At any rate he has not arrived.

In the meantime every effort should be made locally to see that abandoned citrus trees are destroyed. There is no more unsightly spot in the city than the orchard across from the P. E. terminal. It should be cleaned up for appearance sake, if for no other reason.

ELKS GATHER IN LOS ANGELES

THE Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks grand lodge session is convening in Los Angeles next week and nearly a hundred thousand of the members of the order will be in attendance. Elksdom, in its sixty-five years of existence, has achieved an enviable reputation among fraternal organizations for the tremendous amount of charitable work it does both nationally and in the cities where lodge homes have been established. Every "Bill" is enlisted in this service and the work goes forward each year in ever increasing volume.

The Antlered Herd will have a good time in California, and they will take back many happy memories of their week's sojourn on the Coast.

Many Visitors See Model Kitchen of S. Counties Gas Co.

The formal opening of the Southern Counties Gas Company's Model Kitchen at 114 E. Lemon Avenue, Monrovia last Tuesday was attended by hundreds of visitors from the Upper San Gabriel Valley to whose women the kitchen was dedicated by Walter E. Keefe, district manager of the company.

Many representatives of women's organizations participated in the opening exercises, the dedication and reception. Those from Sierra Madre included Mrs. W. C. McGrath, on the reception committee, representing the Sierra Madre Business and Professional Women's Club, Mrs. J. H. Robertson, president of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club, and Mrs. W. H. Butts, president of the Sierra Madre P.T.A.

The model kitchen was designed and planned by Ernest Irving Freese, one of the leading authorities in that line on the Coast. The predominating colors were orange and green. The numerous gifts of flowers from friends of the company and of the genial manager converted the business office into a veritable floral garden.

Lost and Found Articles Exhibited At the News Office

Lost and found articles in gay array are displayed in the News window the past week, and the exhibit has attracted a great deal of interest from passers by. The collection contains eye-glasses, keys, key-tainers, gloves, chains, a rosary, brooches, and other articles which have been found, turned in at the News office, advertised — and still await their lawful owners. One item too large for the board is a small hand-bag containing baby clothing, which was brought in several weeks ago.

None of the articles represent much value, which is undoubtedly the reason they have never been claimed. Numerous other articles, some of them of considerable value, have been advertised during the time the "exhibit" was being collected, and in each case the owner was promptly located.

Fraiberg's Jewelry Store Gets Cleaned

Rumors Would Have It Going Out of Business

While Mr. Greger, manager of Fraiberg's Jewelry Store, was doing a little house-cleaning and sprucing up last week, the rumor was started that the store was going out of business, when in fact they are getting ready to invest in a larger stock for the holiday trade.

Articles not in stock or supplied on about one day's notice from the Los Angeles warehouses at special discount.

No railroad locomotive ever went out of its way to attack an automobile, but the same cannot be said for autos, statistics showing that 25 per cent of the grade crossing accidents last year were caused by automobiles running into trains. The remedy, it is said, is for motorists to consider every railroad crossing a violent danger signal.

Pacific Electric Passes May Be Bought Here

Offering to commuters between Sierra Madre and Los Angeles an innovation in the form of a monthly card pass, the Pacific Electric Railway on July 1 placed into effect a new schedule of fares. Of interest to local patrons is the new monthly pass offered to regular riders. Because of the unlimited number of rides for which it may be used, the fact that it is transferable to any member of the family, its use by regular riders of the Pacific Electric will result in a great saving.

This monthly pass will be sold between Sierra Madre and Los Angeles for $10.50. It provides not only for unlimited transportation for the bearer between the points originally purchased, but also on a number of adjacent Pacific Electric lines.

Mike Donlin, one time slugging ace of the New York Giants, has an important role in "Thunderbolt," Geo. Bancroft's new all-talking drama appearing at the Monrovia Lyric theatre Friday and Saturday, July 12-13.

The baseball player portrays the part of Kentucky Sampson, a condemned convict in the Josef von Sternberg production.

"The Trial of Mary Dugan" with Norma Shearer and Lewis Stone in the leading roles, appears at the Lyric July 9-10-11.

And on July 7 and 8 Lon Chaney appears in "Where East Is East." In it he wears a strange disguise and mingles adventure and thrills with what finally appears one of the strangest and most compelling situations ever seen in a play.

Mr. Myers, manager of the Lyric, announces that two outstanding films to be shown soon, "Noah's Ark" and "On With the Show," soon to be shown, will be held over for five days each to allow opportunity for everyone to see them.

"This is your country—beautify it." This is the prize-winning slogan announced by the National Wayside Beauty Slogan contest conducted among high school students of the nation by Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr. The winner is Marion Boyd, a 17-year-old student of Detroit, Mich. The prize was awarded for the phrase which will most stimulate interest in the beauty of the countryside and enlist popular support in preserving and beautifying.

The roads of San Bernardino county are being patrolled by crews of men with specially constructed rigs for the spraying of oil along the roadside to destroy the destructive puncture vine which has gained a foothold in that county. The oil spray method of controlling the vine has been found to be most effective. The oil placed on the vines soon destroys them, then they can be raked up and burned so that the seeds do not spread.

GENERAL ELECTRIC Refrigerator

You buy the best milk for your children—but do you keep it cold enough to check bacterial growth? Don't say "Yes" without taking the temperature of your refrigerator. If it doesn't register well below 50 degrees, your milk is not safe. The average temperature of a General Electric Refrigerator in household use is 42 degrees. This is the scientifically correct refrigeration that safeguards health. Come in and see the many models.

Time payments can be arranged if you wish.

The News staff photographer was fortunate enough to drop round at the new canyon pool just as Jim Heasley was about to be the "first one in." Jim was exhibiting a good deal of nervousness and expressed a fear that he might not be able to out-swim the sharks that are reported to infest the place—Jim being a bit out of practice at swimming in anything but marmalade. Be that as it may, the pool is attracting a great deal of attention and none of the hundreds who swam in its limpid waters yesterday lost more than one leg each from shark-bite. The water is said to be very good water.

Fire Flames

By One of the Boys

The writer is not in possession of the financial report of the recent dance and card party, but is in position to know that a large number of those who attended the fracas report a very pleasant and enjoyable evening. Those Pasadena Firemen can play dance music and there's no question about it. The music was so entrancing that our chief never missed a round. He fought through each one with favorable footwork. Our assistant chief also wiggles a wicked belt, with a few left jabs. Harry Peterson and Bob Babbitt didn't do so much dancing at the home dance, but a later report will reveal their real maneuvers. Frank Lovell gained for himself a reputation as "the nice man from Sierra Madre." He took care of the Pasadena ladies.

Vern Udell and Joe Swanson did not dance after the meeting. They could be found at the lunch table most of the evening. A number of workmen threw down their tools last Wednesday as the fire siren sounded. It did seem like noon-time to hear it, but it really meant a fire on Mariposa Street. George Norris was there alone when the truck arrived. This is about the fourth time in two weeks. We haven't so much to brag about as we formerly had for the carelessness of our city folks. However, we are glad that none have been so very serious or reached a serious point.

Father Ricard prophesied that we would have no summer, but the weather of last Wednesday made the winter quite a "summer." There are some folks who do not like it hot and want it cool, but weather that is good and hot will help our swimming pool. Ill winds always bring some good and let us be contented, for we can "cool off" mighty quick when our new plunge is rented.

The work on the emergency truck reports progress, although it is rather slow. All the boys are devoting all the time they possibly can spare to this. We expect to have it ready for use before a great many seasons roll by. H. A. Thew operated an electric brush on the thing in professional style, although he did get things twisted. Ask Dad, he knows. Vern Udell has all the holes in the "new" body all plugged up and Frank Lovell has the engine in 50 thousand pieces. If this truck runs after so many parts are laid aside, then we are some mechanics.

Our chief visited one of the boys the other evening and as he left, he was asked to take home a bottle of home made chili sauce.

An evening or two later the chief was asked how he liked the "stuff" and in a very diplomatic manner, he said "It was sure fine; I haven't opened it yet."

The California State Firemen's convention will be held at Ventura in early August. They are preparing for a big time there. When Sierra Madre boys get over there, we'll put their Fires Out!

(Unavoidably omitted from the last issue of the News):

Need no Breakwater To Keep the Crime Wave Out of Deluz

A community of more than 100 population, settled more than half a century ago, into which no sheriff has ever sent a deputy to make an arrest. This is the boast of San Diego county for De Luz, 20 miles north of Oceanview and 16 miles east of San Clemente.

"Only three times in more than fifty years has an officer of the law paid an official visit to De Luz," declares a pioneer of the community. "A deputy sheriff once called to take a mentally deficient child to a state institution, a fire warden came to serve notice of a fire hazard on a landowner, and a game warden made an arrest of a northern visitor who had exceeded the bag limit."

J. M. McCoy, nationally known radio statistician and authority, was one of the principal speakers during the annual Atwater Kent radio convention in Los Angeles June 25, at which time Ray Thew was host to more than 1,000 Southern California Atwater Kent dealers and executives.

Among them were Fred Griebel and Frank E. Cox of the Sierra Madre Hardware Company, who reported a wonderful time at the convention.

Under and by virtue of an order of sale and decree of foreclosure and sale, issued out of the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Los Angeles, on the 7th day of June, 1929, in the above entitled action, wherein the above named plaintiff obtained judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale against EUNICE F. STRATHMAN, Defendant, on the 6th day of June, 1929, for the sum of Twenty-three Hundred Ninety-one and 66-100 Dollars and costs and expenses of sale, to which judgment and decree reference is hereby made, I am commanded to sell at public auction all the following described premises, situate, lying and being in the City of Pasadena, County of Los Angeles, State of California, and bounded and described as follows, to-wit:

Lot seven (7) of the Lundy Tract, as per map recorded in Book 12 page 15 of Maps in the office of the County Recorder of said County.

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on Saturday, the 6th day of July, 1929, at 10 o'clock A. ## C. C. Teague is Member of New Federal Board

Announcement was made from California Fruit Growers headquarters on Monday, July 1, of the acceptance by C. C. Teague of a place on the new Federal Farm Board. Mr. Teague accepted the responsibility of representing the Pacific Coast agricultural interests only after the persistent requests of President Hoover and after many telegrams from cooperative leaders. He will serve at considerable sacrifice to his personal interests. It is understood that Mr. Teague agreed to take the position for one year.

Appointment to this new board to which is entrusted the task of carrying out the provisions of the new farm-relief law, is a signal honor to both Mr. Teague's position as a leader in agriculture and in cooperative marketing, and to the two outstanding cooperative organizations of which he is president, the California Fruit Growers Exchange and the California Walnut Growers Association.

The personnel of the board of nine men will include the most able men available from the principal agricultural industries of various sections of the United States along with a representative of general business interests and another experienced in the field of finance and banking, together with the Secretary of Agriculture, ex-officio.

Mr. Teague has been the leading figure among the successful cooperative marketing groups of the west for a number of years and as such his counsel has been sought at Washington on many occasions. He has been president of the Sunkist organization for nine years and a director for nineteen years and president of the walnut cooperative since its organization fifteen years ago.

Born in Caribou, Maine, in 1873, Mr. Teague came to Santa Paula, his present home, thirty-six years ago and his first job was as a farm hand on a citrus ranch. Today he is president of the Lunoneira Company, largest lemon ranch in the world, and of several other citrus concerns and water companies in the Santa Paula district. He is a director and vice president of the Security-First National Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles and president of the advisory board of the Santa Paula branch of that banking system.

Indicating his active service to agricultural activities, Mr. Teague is chairman of the agricultural legislative committee of California, vice president of the California Development Association and chairman of its agricultural committee, and a director of the California Citrus League.

He has just returned from Washington where he represented the League before the senate finance committee in their further consideration of the tariff revision on lemons and on citrus by-products.

Mr. Teague has great faith in real grown-up and grower-controlled commodity cooperatives such as the two he heads, as a basic requisite to improved marketing conditions for perishable farm products such as are produced in California. He sees cooperative marketing from the viewpoint of a man who has spent most of a life-time in daily contact with the difficulties of co-operation as well as with its advantages in selling crops profitably.

Celebration At City Park Is Successful

area covered with adequate floor preparation, the dancers began at 9 o'clock and continued the enjoyable pastime until late in the evening.

The dance was so successful that it was announced there would be dances each Friday, or program night, during the season—or so long as the interest warrants. The Moonlight Melody Boys have been secured for next Friday night for the next dance of the series, and everyone in the community is invited to attend and bring their out-of-town friends, if they wish. The courts offer ample opportunity to take care of a tremendous number of dancers and as large a space as necessary will be treated with the dance-floor preparation.

In this connection, the committee is going to ask the aid, financially, of interested citizens in behalf of the weekly dances. A sum approximating $35 will be needed each night, and not only will those who attend be asked to contribute a nickel or a dime each to help defray expenses for the evening, but others are urged to aid by sending in donations up to one dollar each to help defray the expense throughout the summer. Donations may be sent to the News or to Mr. Klunk, president of the chamber of commerce.

A badly bruised eye, cuts and other bruises on the right side of Jack Osgood's face are results of a collision between his car and a parked Ford truck on the Foothill Boulevard. A report had been sent in to the police department concerning the truck, which was parked without lights showing and the local car was on the way to the scene when the accident occurred. Arriving they found Osgood unconscious in the wrecked car, and took him at once to the nearest hospital. It is considered almost a miracle that young Osgood was not more seriously injured. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Osgood of 617 West Montecito.

Everett Keegan, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Keegan, 65 West Montecito, was slightly injured when a motorcycle he was riding collided with a street car in Los Angeles. Facial bruises and cuts around his eyes were the most serious results.

Richard Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Young, sustained bruises in his side, back and knees when the family car which he was driving, collided with a dummy street car near Laman-da Park. The car was considerably damaged.

Final preparations have been made and all is in readiness for the tens of thousands of Elks who will gather in this city July 7 to 13 for the 65th national Elks conventions. Streets and buildings of Los Angeles are lavishly decorated for the occasion and the whole city is eager to welcome the antlered herd and entertain the visitors with a full week of festivities. Convention festivities will be climaxed in the Coliseum on Thursday, July 11. During the afternoon, 10,000 Elks will march in a grand parade garbed in historical costumes. In the parade will be bands, drill teams, chanters and floral floats. The motion picture industry will present for the last time the enlarged and reconstructed million-dollar electric pageant on that night.

CHARMING BRIDGE LUNCHEON

Mrs. Roland A. Adams and Mrs. Frank L. Lovell were joint hostesses at a charming bridge luncheon party Saturday at the latter's home, 235 Wilson Avenue. Six tables were artistically set with pastel organdy covers in as many colors, centered with pastel summer flowers to match. The crystal glassware also blended with the color scheme, and the gifts aided in carrying out the dainty effect.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Richards, first; Mrs. Solury, second; Mrs. Harvey Steinberger, third, and Mrs. W. E. Walker, low.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland A. Adams attended the graduation exercises last Friday of Jane Adams, at Riverside.

Professor and Mrs. John J. Hart left Tuesday for Venice where they will spend the next two months.

M. Uyemura, who has been residing in Sierra Madre for the past one and a half years, left the fore part of the week for Venice where he will reside in future.

Brown's Landscaping has just finished installation of an automatic sprinkling system in the front and back yards, driveway and parking strip of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Mesecar.

The Vacation Church School at the First Congregational Church had a party for the children Wednesday morning, the main part—as expressed by the children—being ice cream and cookies.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lehner had as Sunday guests Mr. and Mrs. Percy Moore, daughter, Edith Mae, and son, Stanley, of Inglewood; Donald LaRue, and Mrs. Lehner's brother, Lemuel B. Boardman.

Friends have received letters from Mrs. Mary Wammack from Honolulu, enroute to Borneo. She reports a pleasurable trip so far, with a calm ocean and clear sky.

A fancy-dress ball and captain's dinner was held the night before docking at Honolulu.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Lehner and daughter, Barbara Arlene, of Compton were week-end guests at the George Lehner home. Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Lehner will motor to Lake Arrowhead and spend the week end with Mrs. Lehner's sister, Kathryn R. Kinne.

Many folks when interrogated "What are you going to do the 4th?" answered that they would spend it right in their own fair Sierra Madre, far away from "the madding throng." Some of the young ladies said they would rather go to our own celebration declaring last year's celebration was so successful they were certain to have a good time here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Walker of Boston, Mass., have just completed a motor trip from coast to coast. Mrs. Walker drove from Boston to Indianapolis alone and was joined there by her husband, thence spending some time in Kansas City on business. Mr. Walker is Mrs. J. L. Asbury's uncle and they spent the week end at the Asbury home. Their future home will be in Glendora.

Reservations

By J. R. E.

Having built a hundred-million-dollars worth of air-castles with an equal amount of air dollars, Reservations feels an urge to utter a complaint against a condition that has been afflicting this city for a long time past.

Someone has said that what America needs is a good five-cent cigar. It might also be said that America needs a good five-cent quart of milk.

But what Sierra Madre needs about as much as anything else we can think of right now, is a telephone office.

Every time a man goes down to the beach and wants to telegraph his family of his safe arrival, he transcribes a telegram in the usual fashion—and it is sent to Pasadena. From there it is telephoned to Sierra Madre, and if the recipient wants to verify the record he can go over to Pasadena and ask for the telegram as received at the office in that city.

Maybe that is the best we can do; perhaps it is the best thing to do. But as an inhabitant of a city with five thousand and more population, we reserve the right to our opinion, which is that this city needs a telephone office of its own.

Last night's celebration is an example of what may be done to stimulate interest in Sierra Madre among our own people. Many who were in attendance noted the fact that the program was enjoyed by a much larger number of people than attended the program last year. This is an indication that the fame of the park series is reaching thruout the city and it is probable that before the year is out there will be need for greater accommodations that can be offered under present conditions.

Is it not an opportune time to begin, actively, the matter of building an adequate stage for presentations similar to the delightful Troubadours? Last night's entertainment was superlative—the facilities offered were "not so good." Let's do something about it at once!

Joe Asbury has not been a member of our community long before he noted a need for stimulation in regard to at least one sport that is very popular in Sierra Madre—tennis. An ardent and skillful exponent of the art of "give and take," he immediately began to agitate for a tennis tournament among boys and girls and grownups, alike. And it is quite possible that a tournament committee will soon be at work preparing for such an event.

Waverly Pratt goes Joe one better by suggesting that funds be raised for equipping the courts with flood lights and staging the tournament, for the older folks at least, at night. Citing a near-by court for comparison he stated his belief that the courts would be used much more than at present if night play were made possible.

And just at that point Ray Grant came along and suggested that it almost approximated a duty on the part of the city to purchase the vacant lot west of the present park for conversion into tennis courts and playgrounds.

has reached beyond the conversational stage, would seem to offer an unusual opportunity for this city to do something in a big way to make for better conditions in every way. A brightly lighted court would give the youngsters an opportunity for healthful, enjoyable exercise. It would give us always something pleasant to work for and think about.

Why not think about it?
And then do it?

The Mire of Debt

NO SPECTACLE is so pitiful as the man who has allowed himself to become mired in the slough of debt. Such a condition is sometimes the result of unavoidable misfortune, but more often it comes from sheer carelessness and neglect in not keeping his accounts paid up.

Not only does such a practice work injury to himself and family who may suffer the embarrassment of being refused credit at the stores where they have been accustomed to trade, but it works a hardship and an injustice upon the merchant who extended this credit originally as a favor and sign of confidence.

This merchant cannot keep his credit good unless he pays his bills to the wholesalers promptly. He must have money for the goods he sells you in order to do this. So by your negligence in keeping accounts paid up regularly each month, you stop the normal functioning of commercial activity, just as you would cause suffering and hardship upon hundreds of innocent persons if you shut off the water supply of this city at its source. For after all, the consumer is the source, the fountain head of all trade relations.
